

B.A. DEGREE IN FASHION

AMARIA CARSTENS

FASHION EDITOR

SARIE

Are you passionate about fashion? You don't have to be a designer to pursue a career in fashion! Do you love to dress stylishly or fashionably? Or do you like to dress others fashionably and with style? Are you a team player?

If you answer yes to the last three questions, the fashion industry is for you, even if you don't want to design clothing. You can approach it from a different angle: magazines. They are an inspiring medium to their readers. As a fashion editor you talk to your readers about fashion, from timeless style to high fashion. Each issue entails a whole new concept and inspiration is drawn from around the world. This is a creative field where you meet interesting and inspiring individuals. It keeps you on your toes and drives you to constantly pursue excellence. Just remember, even though magazines give the impression of glamour, it is not necessarily a glamorous world, but it is a highly rewarding one.
